The Central Florida Job Market is Booming!

The job market in Central Florida is exceptional. Metro Orlando remains one of the fastest-growing large metro areas in the U.S., adding approximately 1,500 new residents each week and reaching a population of nearly 2.94 million. Orlando also continues to rank as the most-visited destination in the country, welcoming more than 75 million visitors annually, reinforcing long-term economic strength and demand.

Employment growth in the Orlando metro continues to outperform national trends, posting approximately 2.5% job growth in 2024. A diverse and expanding labor force of more than 1.5 million jobs supports key industries including aerospace, healthcare, logistics, advanced manufacturing, technology, and tourism.

The University of Central Florida (UCF) is a major driver of innovation, consistently ranking among the top five most innovative public universities in the nation. Adjacent to campus, the Central Florida Research Park provides a collaborative, campus-like environment for technology, defense, and research-based companies.

Florida's Space Coast is home to world-leading aerospace organizations including NASA, SpaceX, Boeing, United Launch Alliance, and Blue Origin, anchoring one of the nation's most significant space and defense corridors.

Downtown Orlando hosts a broad mix of employers across multiple sectors, benefiting from a deep and growing regional labor pool. Nearby, Lake Nona, an 11,000-acre master-planned community, continues to attract top-tier technology, life sciences, research, and sports performance organizations.

The well-planned Lake Mary community remains a corporate hub, home to companies such as Deloitte, Cigna, Verizon, Liberty Mutual, and AAA.

Orlando International Airport continues to rank among the busiest airports in the U.S., serving as a major employment center and providing critical domestic and international connectivity.

South of Downtown Orlando, the I-4 corridor's world-renowned theme parks remain a cornerstone of the regional economy. Walt Disney World, Universal Orlando Resort, and SeaWorld Orlando collectively employ tens of thousands of workers and draw millions of visitors each year, with ongoing expansions reinforcing Central Florida's long-term growth outlook.
